

"Bob—this is SOME thirst-quencher"

Some thirst-quencher is right! The most tiring games are well worth the energy if followed by a cool glass of Pepsi-Cola.

Not only delicious and wholesome, but invigorating at all times—after contests of brain or brawn. And in the home it has the same appetizing and comfort-giving effects. You can get it at the fountain—or carbonated in bottles, at your grocer's.

MILITARY HONORS FOR SUBMARINE VICTIMS

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Sept. 28.—Full military honors today were accorded the 14 unidentified victims of the submarine F-4 who lost their lives in Honolulu harbor. The services were attended by high officers of the navy and others.
The thousands of Civil war veterans and others attending the Grand Army of the Republic bowed their heads as the procession passed.

Uncle John Rules That Fodder-Pulling is Out of Order.

Progressive Farmer.
"Well, no more fodder pullin' in mine," declared Uncle John, as he dropped in on the agricultural man.
"What's the matter?" asked the latter.
"Have you had a case of sunstroke, trying to save feed a blade at a time?"
"No," replied the old man, "but I come so all-fired near it it wasn't funny a bit. The pint is, though, that I've jes' been over an' seen Harry Wain's new shreddin' an' balin' outfit at work, an' I want to tell you that thing is a fodder-puller from way-back."
"You see," went on Uncle John, while he eyed rather suspiciously some boxes in which the "demonstrator" was testing some clover seed. "You see, Harry, I think it's some up-to-date farmer, which I ain't denyin', an' from his readin' an' his trips to the experiment station he made up his mind fodder-pullin' wuz Tommy-rot, an' set out to prove it. Well, he proved it all right, to his own satisfaction, an' mine, too. If you ain't seen that outfit at work, you oughter. Not only that, I'll help you git together a bunch of these fodder-pullin' fellers an' we'll make 'em ashamed of themselves, jes' like I got ashamed o' myself, an' swore I'd never pull another blade so long as I live. You see, Harry cuts his corn and shocks it, an' then later he shreds his stalks and bales 'em. He don't only get a whole lot more feed, but he don't have to blame nigh kill hisself doin' it."
"Yes sir," said the agricultural man.
"I'll help you and any day you say to get up a party and go over and see this machinery work. Name the date."
"Good for you," chuckled the old fellow, "and I'll bet two things: I'll bet the crowd'll be willin' to co-operate in gettin' an outfit for this neighborhood, an' I'll bet half o' 'em'll feel like hirin' an' ottrymatic kickin' machine to work on themselves for not learnin' sense sooner."

AT LEAST ONE DYE IS FOUND AT MORGANTON

Morganton, Sept. 28.—It is probable that a substitute for dye, at least one color, has been discovered here in Morganton. The color in question is khaki, and it was obtained from "liquor" secured at the tannery at this place. J. E. Erwin of Alpine Cotton Mills sent a jug of this liquid off with a request that it be tested as a dye. The result is the color specified and it stands the test of both water and light. Those familiar with tanneries know that this "liquor" is used for coloring leather, and it is thrown to waste after it has fulfilled its mission. As to whether it will be practical to utilize it for another purpose remains to be seen. It is learned that it will be thoroughly tested and if it does what those who have been experimenting with it believe it will, then at least one of the dyestuff problems will have been solved, for this particular color of dye in the past has been obtainable in Germany, and if it can be used in the tanneries of this country are wasting enough of this stuff daily to supply all the cotton mills throughout the United States.

POSTMASTER AT RALEIGH HAS TENDERED RESIGNATION

Raleigh, Sept. 28.—It is learned that Mrs. Rowland has resigned as postmaster at West Raleigh. Her resignation was sent to Washington a week ago, but there has as yet come no announcement by the department as to acceptance or probable appointment of a successor. It is likely that there place when it becomes known that there is to be a vacancy. Mrs. Rowland says she is resigning because she does not care to bear the burden of the duties of the office longer.

DR. BOOKER OPPOSED TO THE TRAINING CAMP

Chapel Hill, Sept. 28.—In discussing the advisability of having a business men's training camp located in North Carolina, similar to the one held at Plattsburg, N. Y., this summer, Dr. J. M. Booker of the English department of the University declared himself opposed to the plan. Dr. Booker was one of the five North Carolinians who attended the camp at Plattsburg.

Quotations.

An old scholar, dying, gave his son this parting advice, "Verily your quotations." Also, it will be well to foresee how far a quotation may lead when given in full. Was not Mr. George W. Perkins' proposal that the fitting progressive hymn should now be, "Lead Kindly Light," made without due thought? Immediately follows, "Amid the encircling gloom." Does "the night is dark and I am far from home," imply regret that the old party was ever abandoned and belidement in the effort to return? Another part of Newman's hymn runs: "Those angel faces smile, Which I have loved since and lost awhile." Those lines will suit some of the returning wanderers, but not all.—Harper's Weekly.

STEAM MAY SUPPLANT GAS IN AMERICAN SUBMARINES

The Sanitary Removable Front of the New

Roll Door Hoosier

Like most wonderful inventions, this new Kitchen Cabinet is so simple that you will wonder why no one discovered it before. Yet, makers have experimented for ten years to produce it. Hoosier triumphs again with the only kitchen cabinet that has roll doors which are sanitary and removable.

No Partitions

Note the entire absence of cubby holes or dirt breeding pockets. As on all Hoosier Cabinets the space of the cupboard is free from partitions. The doors slide in an ingeniously contrived channel which is open and easy to clean. A simple motion removes the doors and a whisk broom or cloth dusts out the channel completely. You will recognize all the other features that make the Hoosier Cabinet famous.
